

BIOBANK CONSENT AND ACCEPTANCE

By signing this form, I confirm that I have read and understood the FHRB Biobank Declaration for sample donors (TIE-0191, edition 1) concerning the nature of biobank research and any detriment it may cause and accordingly give the FHRB Biobank my consent and acceptance.

I consent to the following:

- Samples may be collected from me in the future as part of treatment-related sample collection and transferred to and stored and processed by the Biobank.

I accept that personal data concerning me and my health and information provided by me concerning factors influencing my health may be:

- stored and processed by the Biobank and attached to my samples
- linked to other registry data as described in the Declaration for sample donors
- disclosed, in coded form, for biobank research and product development, including to countries outside the European Union
- disclosed, with identifiers, where a justified need exists (for example, providing my personal identity code to another data controller for the purpose of linking data sets).

I also consent to being contacted by the Biobank:	Yes	No to notify me of any significant findings from my sample that are relevant for my health to ask whether or not I would be willing to participate in a study or sample collection to which this consent and acceptance does not apply
Other:

I have been given adequate information on what it means to give my consent and acceptance. I can withdraw my consent before samples are collected from me and transferred to the Biobank and/or object to the use of the transferred material without this affecting any treatments related to my illness in any way.
